Important Circular

Subject: Regarding conducting an additional online examination for failed students of final year

B.Tech.students

With reference to the above subject, several request applications have been received by the institute from the failed students stating that they had faced some technical problems at their end during the online examination. In view of this and to avoid any loss of the final year students of A.Y. 2019-20 considering the COVID-19 situation, it is hereby decided to conduct an additional online examination of these students in the first week of November, 2020 and this additional online examination will not be considered as re-examination.
